Publicity: Jeff outlined his marketing plan to promote the Christmas Show. Members were reminded tickets go on sale this Saturday, Oct. 1st.

VP Variety/Music, Cyndy Gierada gave the report in Dodie Prescott's absence. Cyndy shared an e-mail from Christmas Show Director, Jeri Collins, which included the images of what the tickets, poster and set would look like. Also, Jeri is considering using risers for the choral performances. The choral groups begin rehearsals on Oct. 3rd. There are 20 people signed up for Valley Voices and 30 for the Mixed Chorus. Marge Hockemeier will help with the Show's microphones.

VP Comedy/Drama, Diana Paul reported that she is looking at a variety of plays and should have a decision in November or December in time for tryouts.

Member at Large: Davey Jones and Sharon Kruger – Sharon asked for 3 volunteers to usher for the Christmas Show.

Old Business: Cyndy reported on the two "Name that Tune" events during the summer. She said they were very successful with prizes including bottles of wine and gift cards to the Grill. Cyndy is already getting ideas for next summer and feels we could also possibly do a one act play in the summer.

New Business: Jeff Webster asked for a volunteer to be the PAG webmaster. The webmaster would take over the existing website and make revisions and additions. The webmaster does not need to be a PAG member. A suggestion was made to contact the QC Computer Club and Audrey Fatula said she would do that as she is a member of the computer club. Anyone interested should contact Jeff Webster.

Cyndy revealed the plan to have fun events monthly at the end of each meeting. She asked for ideas from the members. The event should take no more than 30 minutes and ideas should be sent to Sharon Krueger at sbkrueger51@hotmail.com. Muriel Larson suggested that for October we get someone to do Halloween make-up so members could get ideas about applying stage make-up. Suggestions were discussed as to who could do this. Cyndy volunteered that the budget could possibly cover cost of make-up if someone would be willing to do the teaching.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:30 p.m. Paul White made the motion and Muriel Larson seconded.
